DOROTHY DIX Bewildered Girl

Dear Miss Dix: I am a junior in high school and am fairly good-looking and attractive. My problem is that after I have dated a boy two or three times he drops me and I have no idea why. I try to make myself as interesting as possible. I don't quarrel with my boy friends. I dress well and make a good appearance. My mother makes my dates welcome, so I don't see why I am not popular.

Can you help me solve the problem of how to hold my dates?

Answer: Well, daughter, it is always easier for a girl to catch a man than it is to hold him. The charm that weaves him one day falls flat on him the next, and so it is no wonder that you little sweeties are bewildered when the lads who they thought were their steady drop them without rhyme or reason.

There are many explanations for this. One is that a boy's taste in girls changes as it does in all-day suckers. Or he outgrows the girl. Or he goes off to school and absence makes the heart grow fonder of some other charmer. Or the boy is a kid and the girl is a kid and they don't know why. They are other, so love's young dream just peters out.

Humiliating Experience
Millions of young girls go through this humiliating experience of having their steady become unsteady and they don't know why. They are just as young and pretty and cute today as they were yesterday and they don't see why Johnny or Tom has lost his taste for them, but he has.

Generally it is because a boy's fancy wanders to another, but mostly when a girl loses her boy friend it is because she did not know how to manage him. She drove him too tight a rein, or she was too possessive, or she was too jealous, or she hinted too much for presents, or she made too many demands upon him, or she wasn't a good play fellow, and dates became fewer and fewer until there were none at all.

Dear Miss Dix: I would like some advice about how to get rid of in-laws who infest our house all the time and practically crowd us out of it. We are never able to have our own friends come to see us because my wife's people have just filled every nook and cranny in it. They never seem to think that we would like to have a little privacy and that we would enjoy being alone.

Can you tell me how to get rid of these deadbeats and still be a gentleman?

Answer: I doubt that there is any gentlemanly way of getting rid of sponging relatives. It takes a strong-armed man with a good vocabulary to rid his house of such pests, for hints and suggestions and harsh words and turning the cold shoulder on them won't do the trick. They will forgive you for treating them rough, and stay on. However, this is no time to dally with the problem of visiting relatives because the housing shortage gives them a perfect alibi. You have to be up and coming and bar the doors quickly if you expect to escape your in-laws.

Dear Dorothy Dix: What should be the length of time between when a boy asks you to marry him and when he gives you a ring and the engagement is announced?

Answer: It depends upon circumstances. There is no time limit. It may be either long or short as best suits the contracting parties.

PIN-WORM Mystery Ended

The mystery of Pin-Worms has been known for centuries and millions of victims have sought a way to deal with these pests that live in the human body. Even today, experts report that one out of every three persons examined was infected with Pin-Worms.

But now you can and should do something about Pin-Worms. Because a new, scientific treatment—Jayne's P.W. Vermifuge—offers real relief. P.W.'s principle ingredient is a medically-approved drug that attacks Pin-Worms in the intestines and removes them from the body.

So watch for the warning signs in your family—itching, nose picking and especially the annoying, embarrassing rectal itch. Then ask your druggist for P.W., the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by the famous Jayne Co. specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years. Destroy those Pin-Worms...relieve that itch.

Just Remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Compromise May Prevent Split Says Rep. Hays

Louisville, Ky., March 9 — (AP) — A compromise on civil rights may prevent a sharp division in congress, believes Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas.

Hays, who is to address the annual pastors conference of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary here, said yesterday the compromise provides for outlawing lynching but places full responsibility for its enforcement on the states themselves.

Hays said he also believed that the poll tax should be repealed but by constitutional amendment. He said a group of southern congressmen favor the establishment of a division in the department of labor to counsel for non-discrimination and fair treatment of all economic groups.

Fair

Enough
By Westbrook Pegler
Copyright, 1947
By King Features Syndicate.

Having neglected the field of unionism and labor for a long time, a few but only a few of our American clergy have bestirred themselves in the last few years. Better late than never. They were caught flatfooted, nevertheless, and only the challenge of communism in this malleable and maneuverable mass of power stirred them to their duty of opportunity even then.

There is no evidence that they are laying down any enforcing the simple law of guilt and retribution, however. There are about nine or perhaps a dozen union bosses of national prominence and power who could be put on the spot by such public and personal confession who have never in public confession nor in private confession control about five million subjects. This is more than a third, and I would think, nearly half, of the actual, legal membership of all the unions in this country.

It is common practice in union conventions to pay per capita taxes on the fictitious margin above the actual membership. Thus the officials in control of such units contribute greater power through more delegates. The per capita tax being levied is the cost of a false front power. So one may never know the true membership of the union movement.

The individual member who deliberately leads on the job giving, say, 80 cents worth of effort for a dollar, probably in a confidential way, is not only a scoundrel, but a thief. He is stealing 20 cents out of every dollar that he collects.

Five starters have been nominated for the one mile and sixteenth Southland, which is for three years old and upward. Besides Pears and the American Revolution, they are: Stan's Blue Regent and Avon, the latter a filly, and N. L. Ruffellman's Grain Market and Quick Tiger.

The featured, six-furlong event yesterday was won by Miss Stone, which came from behind in the stretch to go under the wire with a length and a half lead. The brown filly from the Thomas and Howell farm was timed in 1:23.

Miss Stone, ridden by Jockey Job Dean, won $50.00 for a $2 place ticket. A. H. Harper's battle II was third.

Jockey Elvie Hunt, 25, of Uniontown, Ky., was injured in a fall during the featured race. He was thrown from his mount, Challenor, and suffered lacerations about his face and the loss of two teeth.

ing a conscience, however absurd that word may sound in relation to such parasites, is personally guilty. It would be possible under our laws to nail one of them, and him a jail sentence but what prosecutor would make the effort after the victim had made the complaint? That is the trouble.

The complaint filed by the slowdown must be real. If the guilt is to be lifted from the rank and file onto the union boss, and in some cases it certainly is not, together because the men get together in moving and deliverance practices. They think that once this had been done their individual guilt becomes collective and impersonal.

I have been rather pleased to see the men of the union movement, moral and economic slump. It is about time. So far, I see little real besides the outwitting of the Communists in the C. I. O. by their own kind of treachery. I don't see any good can come of the use of such methods. And I am still watching closely for the first sign that any of the revolting fakers who have built temples of corruption and treachery by the sale of stolen fortunes, their salaries, pensions and graft and go forth in sackcloth. The thieves of the union.

Crashhopper, of course, has

Rice, Porkers Meet Tonight in Playoff

Dallas, March 9.—(AP)—Baylor battles Arizona and Rice meets Arkansas tonight in the first round of a four-team playoff to determine the Southwest's representative in the NCAA Western regional tournament at Kansas City.

All are conference leaders—Baylor, Arkansas and Rice having tied for the Southwest title and Arizona having taken the Border conference crown its fourth season in a row.

Baylor and Arizona get together at 7:30 p. m. (CST) with Rice and Arkansas clashing at 9 p. m. The winners will meet tomorrow night for working girls. Phone 1330 or 522 West 4th. Mrs. F. C. Malone.

Coach Fred Enke's Arizona Wildcats are accorded an excellent chance of winning the playoff over their three Southwest conference foes through Baylor, with the best season record of the quartette, will be a slight favorite at the start.

Baylor beat Rice twice this season and broke even with Arkansas. Rice downed Arkansas twice. Arizona played none of the three but did split a series with Texas Tech, which defeated Rice.

There will be a flock of players in the tournament who have come above the 200 mark in scoring this season. Bill Tom, Rice center, is the leader with 244. Don Heathington of Baylor, Warren Switzer and Joe McElroy of Rice, Bob Ambler of Arkansas, and Crum and Leon Blevins of Arizona all scored more than 200 points.

Season records of the four teams are: Baylor, won 14, lost 9; Arizona, won 16, lost 10; Rice, won 13, lost 10; Arkansas won 12 lost 10.

Toneweight in the race went to Frank St. Charles Norr-orch, win of one race here, and A. E. Hester's Jim Boy-II, which has been trailing well. Each carried 113 pounds.

Another strong contender for role of favorite was Mrs. A. M. Creech's Be Brief.

21 Games to Decide State Cage Titles

By CARL BELL
Little Rock, March 9.—(AP)—An Arkansas high school basketball tournament which, in 21 games, will decide three championships began here today.

First on the schedule were three afternoon games in Class A, to be followed by three more in the same classification tonight.

But besides the Class A championship, sought by 16 teams, this biggest of all state tournaments will produce a Big Six division title and an undisputed state title. This will be accomplished by matching winners of the Class A and Big Six brackets, in which play will continue through Friday night, in a playoff Saturday night.

Play in the Big Six, which will be holding its first cage tourney, will start tomorrow morning. Fayetteville was the popular pre-meet choice to win the Class A title. In the Big Six, Pine Bluff Zebras were rated the favorite.

But the fields, especially in Class A, appear well balanced and no favorite can be regarded as a sure thing.

In the A Division, defending champion Fayetteville, Beebe, Van Buren, Hope, Leachville, Jonesboro, Russellville and Warren were classed as title possibilities.

Pine Bluff's chief obstacles in the Big Six are North Little Rock, which the Zebras will meet in their very first game, an Fort Smith.

This afternoon's program matched England against Van Buren, Russellville against Hope and Batesville against Stuttgart. Tonight Leachville will play Crosssett, Beebe will tackle Mena and Jonesboro will meet Warren.

Fayetteville will open defense of its crown in a game with Cherry Valley tomorrow morning. The last Class A first-rounders will send Fayetteville against Catholic High.

The Thursday morning session will be rounded out by the Big Six opener, Fort Smith vs. Little Rock. That afternoon play will start off with the Pine Bluff-North Little Rock duel.

Hamline Is Favored in NAIB Play

Kansas City March 9.—(AP)—The field was trimmed to 16 teams today in the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball tournament, but an outstanding favorite still was lacking.

The Hamline university Pipers, a highly regarded team, and Indiana Central of Indianapolis, were paired in the upper bracket feature at 2:20 p. m. (CST).

In the lower bracket, Beloit (Wis.) college and the Southwest Missouri State Bears, who had a 23 regular season record, will meet at 7:40 p. m. (CST). Beloit, a quarterfinalist in the last two years, looked great in beating Waynesburg (Pa.) college, 96 to 56, yesterday.

Don Dantemps, Beloit forward, connected for 32 points and appears to have enough class to make the Wisconsin team a serious challenge for the NAIB title.

Hot Springs and El Dorado drew first-round byes in the Big Six. Hot Springs will meet the Little Rock-Fort Smith winner Thursday night. El Dorado Friday morning will play the winner of the Pine Bluff-North Little Rock.

The 1949 tournament will be one day longer than state meets or other recent years. And Johnnie Burnett, secretary of the sponsoring Arkansas Athletic Association, says it's a cinch to draw record crowds.

King George to Undergo Foot Operation

London, March 8 — (AP) — King George VI will be operated on—probably within a week—to get more blood flowing into his endangered right foot.

Six doctors in an announcement from Buckingham Palace last night said the operation will be "at an early date." Court correspondents said they understood that meant next week and the surgery probably would be done at the palace.

This was the first official word that the ailing 53-year-old king would undergo surgery for the arterial condition that was made public last Nov. 23.

The operation will be a right side lumbar sympathectomy—the cutting away of the sympathetic nerve knots lying in front of the spine in the lower back. These nerves help keep the arteries tight and slowing the flow of blood into the legs.

Two of the doctors who signed the bulletin were American-trained. They are Prof. James Learmonth, who specialized in this operation in the United States and was a surgeon at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., from 1923 to 1932; and Prof. James Paterson Ross who was an associate in surgery at the neurological clinic of Peter Bent Brigham hospital, Boston, Mass., in the '20's.

First word of the king's illness in November was coupled with an announcement cancelling the proposed royal family tour of Australia and New Zealand.

A complete rest and a series of treatments led to what the doctors called "satisfactory recovery" in the left leg and prevented the disease which it was at first feared might set in.

The disease from which the king suffers is known technically as thrombo-angiitis obliterans—a progressive tightening of the arteries due to inflammation inside them. The technique of lumbar sympathectomy has been known for only about 25 years.

Medical authorities said in most cases the patient is under anesthesia for no more than a half-hour. They said the operation is not regarded as serious.

Truman Gets Out Fancy Shirts for Florida

Key West, Fla., March 8 — (AP) — President Truman got out a collection of fancy sports shirts and slacks today to settle down to the enjoyment of his sixth Florida vacation.

His aides said he would fall into his regular routine of early morning strolls, a daily swim and a two-hour sunbath.

His old pal, Chief Justice Vinson, is joining him later in the week. Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross also is to fly down in a day or two.

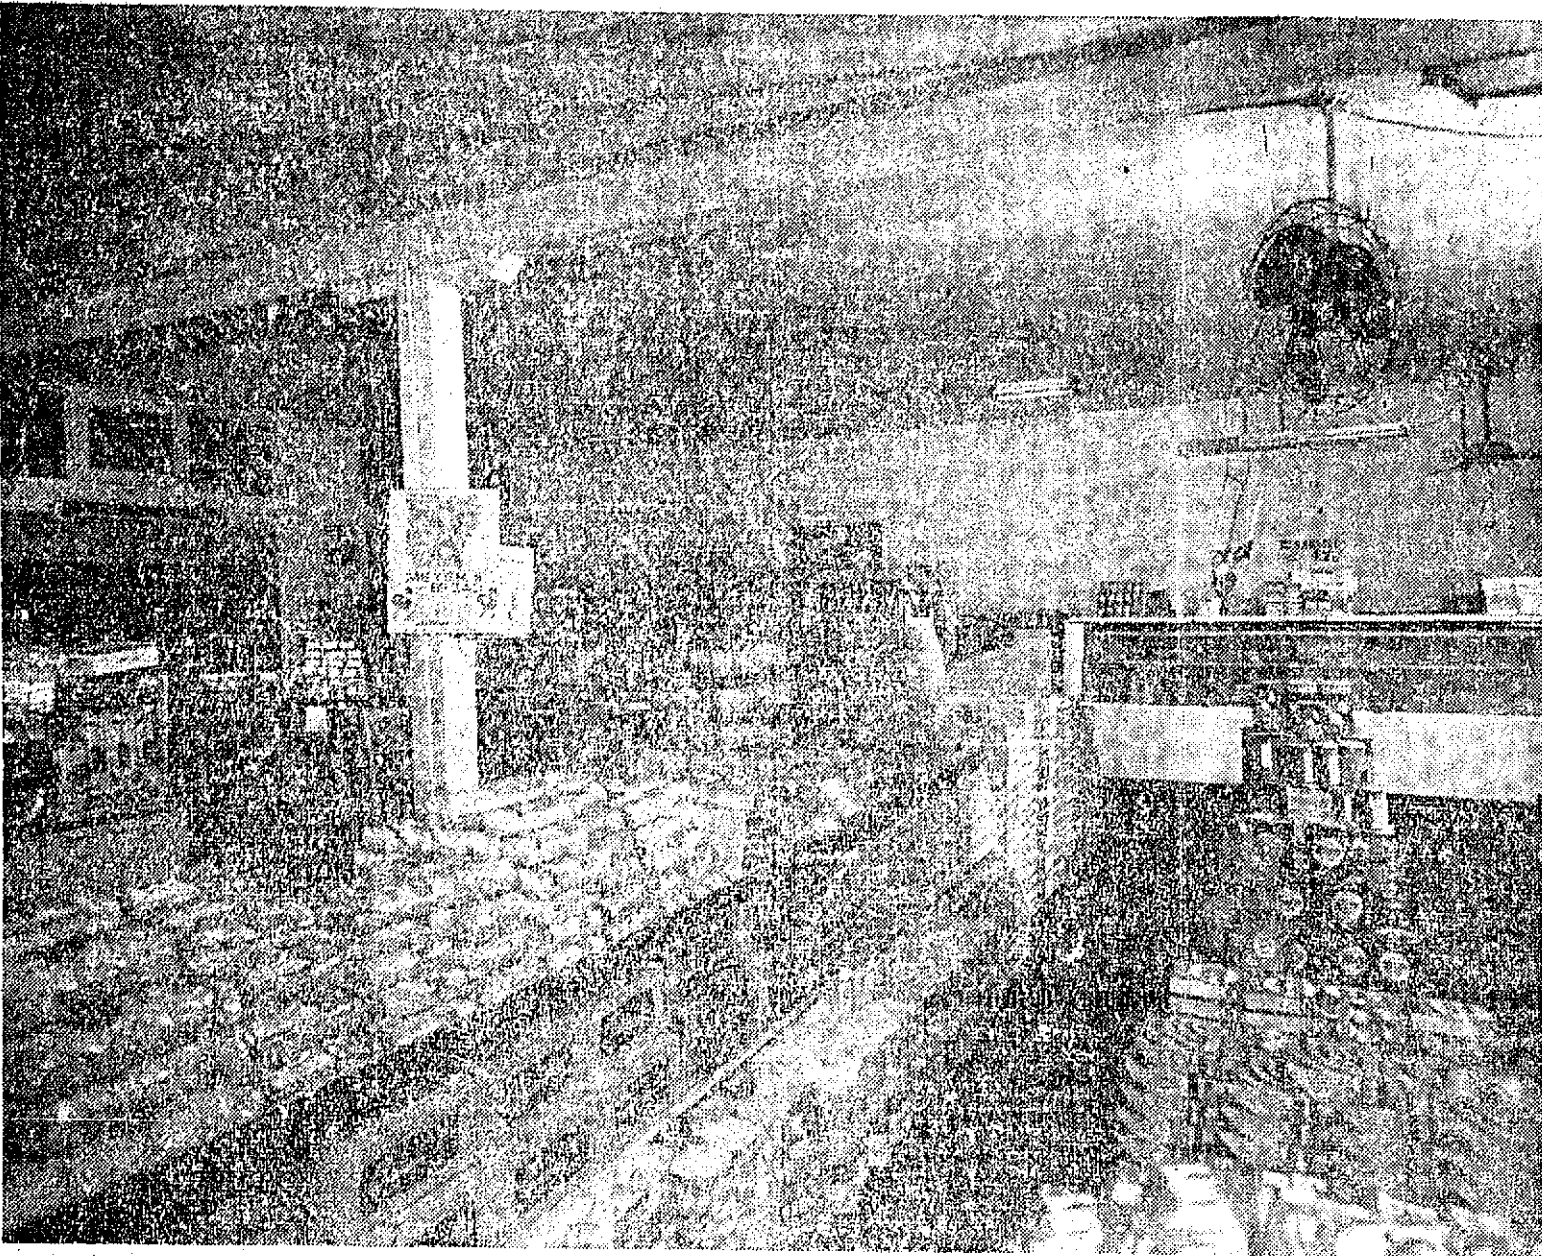

The president's highest placed aides said he has not yet decided upon a successor to Secretary of the Army Royall, who is to step out soon.

Mr. Truman is in direct telephone communication with the White House, and a courier plane is making regular trips here with official reports and correspondence.

The president interrupted his routine yesterday to fly to Winter Park for a speech after receiving a degree from Rollins college.

Mr. Truman isn't planning any other side trips. He wants to return to Washington March 19.

"I wish we had a drink of some-thing," Sin said, watching the face in her lap twitch.

"I could use it," John Henry answered emphatically.

I meant for Mr. Trim. Sshhh! I think he's waking up."

The pseudo tooth-paste representative meandered again, stirred and rocked his head back and forth. John Henry leaned forward. Trim's brown eyes, more watery than ever, now opened and blinked. When he saw the two faces hovering over him, he tried to smile away.

"It's all right, Mr. Trim," Sin comforted him, her hands holding his shoulders down.

"I wish we had a drink of some-thing," he cracked and said a mouthful of words. Sin obeyed hastily, putting her helpful hands behind her back. Trim sat up quickly and then seized his head as if to keep it from rattling off his shoulders.

"Look," said John Henry. "I'll come along quietly."

This was not the greeting Trim had expected. He slid along the ground a yard or two, put to his feet, and said, "Hello!"

"It's all right, Mr. Trim," Sin repeated. "Really we're not embarrassed. Now that we know about you, we'll get on with it."

"For goodness' sake, let's get on with it," Trim said. "I'm sorry I'm not a better man, but I'm not."

Mr. Trim wiped his white teeth from his face and considered them. He looked at Sin and said, "I'm not a better man, but I'm not."

"We thought you were this Jones fellow," Sin said.

Victims of Shooting Improved

Berryville, March 8 — (AP) — Further improvement was reported today in the condition of a 12-year-old boy—lone survivor and the key witness in a mysterious shooting in the Ozark hills.

The dead, Leon Tubb, is semi-conscious from a bullet wound in his head.

His half-brother, Dewey, 7, and their pet hound were killed.

Deputy Sheriff Van Gore of Carroll county said hospital attendants here told him this morning that Leon had smiled in response to a nurse's question whether he wanted a drink of water. This was the first time in three days that he has shown signs of consciousness, Gore said, and brought encouragement that the boy would recover. He isn't able to speak yet.

The brothers and their dog were found near their farm home, 12 miles north of here, Monday, two days after they disappeared. Leon was unconscious; the younger boy, a school teacher's son, a rifle belonging to Leon and a box of shells lay nearby. Leon also had two unexploded cartridges in his mouth.

Authorities say they don't know what happened at the Tubb farm last Saturday, after the boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Tubb left to do their weekly "trading" at a nearby community. They are delaying their investigation until they are permitted to talk with Leon.

Yesterday, Prosecutor Ted P. Coxsey said physicians advised him that, at best, it would be several days before Leon would be in condition to be questioned.

Meanwhile, the parents awaited arrival of relatives from Texas before completing funeral arrangements for their younger son. The school teacher's mother, who collapsed Monday after her boys were found following a weekend search, has been released from the same hospital in which Leon is fighting for his life.

Rainfall in State Is General

Little Rock, March 9 — (AP) — Heavy rains, which measured more than two inches in parts of southwest Arkansas, covered the state last night.

The U. S. weather bureau here said today, however, no big rises are expected on the state's rivers. The rain was heaviest at New Hope, where 4.40 inches fell during a 12-hour period ended this morning.

The bureau predicted minor flood stages on the Ouachita within the next two weeks.

The White river still is out of its banks below Clarendon and St. Charles as a result of last month's heavy rains.

By the Associated Press

Wintery weather—freezing temperatures and snow—hit wide areas of the central states today. The mercury tumbled to below zero in North Dakota and northern Minnesota. It was 12 below at Pembina, N. D.

The cold Canadian air pushed southward over the central section of the country as far as southern Michigan, northern Indiana, northern parts of Illinois and Missouri, Oklahoma and Colorado. It was expected to move eastward into the Appalachian mountains tonight.

The snow belt extended from the Great Lakes region southwestward into Kansas and along the eastern slopes of the Rockies from Colorado into Montana, Sidney, Neb., reported seven inches of snow.

Rain fell over an area south of the Ohio River valley to the Gulf. Temperatures reached into the 80's in parts of Texas yesterday and generally were higher in the eastern half of the country and about normal along the Pacific coast.

Floods Rage Over 4-State Area

By the Associated Press

Flood waters left hundreds homeless in four states today. A new flood threat developed in Montana and rising waters plagued many areas of Nebraska still reeling after a winter-long bout with weather's elements.

Surging waters from swollen streams spilled over thousands of acres of land in Nebraska, Iowa, Montana and Louisiana. But colder weather in many parts of the midwest checked some of the overflow. The Missouri river was generally below flood stage over its course through eight states from northern Montana to southern Illinois but many of the big river's tributaries were on a mild rampage.

Minor floods were caused north of Sidney, Mont., after ice 30 to 40 inches deep broke the Yellowstone river and sent water over its banks. Some residents expressed fear of widespread floods if the ice gorge backed up for 20 miles. Farmers and ranchers along the river were urged to leave their homes and remove their livestock.

In southeastern Montana, the Tongue river was running bank full and threatened to flood Miles City. The Missouri river, frozen from the mountains near Helena to the headwaters and no immediate flood is threatened.

Many Nebraska communities battled the rising waters. At Beatrice nearly 100 families were evacuated as the big Blue river overflowed. Four of the eight schools in the city of 11,000 closed.

Other families fled their homes in Seward and the flood waters reached within two blocks of the business district of Crete, a college town of 3,800. Some roads in the area of O'Neill and Albion were impassable because of mud and snow runoff and washed out bridges.

Threatened by backwaters of the Mississippi river tributaries in Eastern Louisiana, 245 families have been evacuated from their homes. The Mississippi is above flood stage from Baton Rouge to New Orleans but below flood stage from Baton Rouge north.

Water from ice-jammed tributaries of the Missouri covered thousands of acres of Iowa lowlands. Many families fled their homes.

Generally there was no immediate flood threat by the Missouri in the Dakotas, Missouri, Kansas and Illinois. There also appeared no immediate flood danger in other sections of the country although the critical period in many areas is not expected until later in March or early April.

Senate Approves Part of Cost of Fieldhouse

Little Rock, March 9 — (AP) — A bill appropriating part of the cost of a proposed new fieldhouse for the University of Arkansas has won a hard battle in the state legislature.

The senate passed the measure, 24 to 7, after lengthy debate yesterday. The house previously approved it.

Governor McMath has said he favored a new fieldhouse and is expected to sign the bill into law.

The legislation appropriates $300,000 to help finance construction of the all-purpose building. The remainder of the estimated total cost of $1,600,000 would come from state receipts and the federal government.
